The British steamer Peninsular reports having left Singapore, bound to Swatow, on May 16th, experienced moderate weather, until a few days ago, when a little to the northward of this port, she encountered very heavy seas, and the English, accompanied by tremendous gales, with 30 fathoms of swell. For four days she was under close reefs, split several sails, and made but little way. Consequently it was thought advi able to put into Hongkong till the violence of the weather abated. Evening Mail.
